

At an impressive ceremony under the direction of Mrs. Jean Sculthorp, Sponsor, the members of the National Honor Society from Washington Clay were officially given membership Monday, November 20. The students were judged and elected on four characteristics—CHARACTER, SCHOLARSHIP, LEADERSHIP & SERVICE. There were seven seniors—Rosemary Lavis, Virginia Izdepski, Patsy Danielson, Evelyn Voss, Shirley Clobridge, John Neher, and Donald Lynch—Juniors—Patricia Greenwood, Patricia Morse, Jo Anna Harter, Margaret Shoup, and Dwain Spencer.

The four seniors, who were members last year, gave speeches on the four characteristics.

Donald Lynch spoke on Character—"The sum of quality by which one person is distinguished from another is character—that which man really is, not what he seems to be. In the building of the ideal man, character is the fundamental requisite, and constant, patient care should be given to its development. Of all the attributes that go into the making of a noble character, there is none more important than honesty. Honesty, above all else, brings out one's very makeup. It comes from the heart which shows it is essential. Other attributes of one's character are truth, purity, honor, faith, and courtesy."

Rosemary Lavis gave an explanation of Scholarship—"A scholar is a person who has a sincere and lasting desire to acquire knowledge. In this pursuit he becomes possessed of one of the most precious gifts of life—the ability to think clearly. It is a very important thing for one to learn so the Honor Society has made it a requisite for entrance. Today the mark of the scholar can be found in any important work of life. The key to the future of the world is right here in the school. That key is scholarship, so as long as the situation grants us the chance to learn, let's all grasp and hold on to it."

Virginia Izdepski cited the importance of Leadership—"Leadership beckons men to rise and pass with silent certainty through the vast wilderness of night. Leadership challenges the virtues of a man's soul. It will show his goodness, his mercy, his selfishness, his iniquity. A leader must have courage, for the way is not easy; he must have faith, for the way is not sure. The measure of a true leader is his sense of responsibility. The leader must do what is good for the group, not for his own merits. For, what is the worth of a man who will not advance his ideals and strive to carry them to their goal! A man may be brilliant, noble, and charitable, and thereby be a good man. But, if in addition, he is a leader, he is an important man."

John Neher gave a definition of Service—"Service plays its most active role in clubs and organiza-

Plans For New School Complete

As you have all probably read in the South Bend Tribune the plans for our new school are complete. This new school is to have all the latest ideas in lighting, heating, material, etc., with a gym that will seat about 3,500 people (sounds pretty wonderful doesn't it?)

Mr. Mohn, our trustee, said that the architect informed him that thirty-five sets of plans have been made and given to different contractors to bid on to see who will be the builders.

If everything goes according to schedule the school should be complete in time for the 1951 term.

ANNUAL SUBSCRIPTION DRIVE

Have you noticed the posters around lately? Yes, they all say, "Order Your Annual Now."

This year the annual staff is doing something different. For each subscription that you order, you get to vote for a king and queen from the senior class. They will be crowned at a dance sponsored by the yearbook staff. Not only that but you may also win a free county tourney basketball ticket or a free annual. There will be a ticket and annual for both senior and junior high students. The price of the annual is $1.00 down and $1.00 when you receive your yearbook.

So come on kids, let's make this year's sales the best ever.

tions of the school. Service not only improves the club, but also helps build the member. The more a person does for others, the more he does to help himself has been proven. Service to all mankind that goes below all shallow selfishness and brings out into the light the beauty of human souls is not measured by size, importance, nor the difficulty, but is measured by the radiance of the spirit from which it is rendered. When a man can calmly leave a selfish desire to help a beggarman groping for aid he has found the key to life's richest treasure—Service."

The actions of men are the best interpreters of their thoughts—Locke.

A war debt is annoying, but in these troubled times it is comforting to have at least one thing that is permanent and unchanging.

We knew a cashier who wished to be one of the 400 and now he is No. 387.

Girls whose beauty gets them hired
Often find that's why they're fired.

RED CROSS DRIVE SUCCESS

The annual Junior Red Cross Drive was held this year from November 9th to 17th. The total amount collected by the school amounted to $28.64 with the senior high contributing $18.97 of this and the junior high filling in the other $9.67.

Special honors go to the home rooms of Mr. Rogers and Mrs. Schultz for having one hundred per cent enrollment.

GIRLS HAS LECTURE ON NURSING

On November 13, during second hour, the girls were called to the gymnasium for a talk with Mrs. Podell from Memorial hospital and Teresa Lucas, a former Washington Clay graduate, who is in her 2nd year of nursing there.

Mrs. Podell reviewed the subjects that would be most desirable for further training in the field of nursing. She told us of the fields in nursing which pay the most, an interesting topic to most of us. She also gave a brief summary of life during the three years of training.

The rest of the period was turned over to us for discussion, questions to be answered by Miss Lucas and herself.

A large number of Clay students have a nursing career in mind. There is a desperate need for nurses. Why not think it over girls?

JR. HIGH PROGRAM

The Jr. High program, presented November 22, 3rd hour was opened with the flag salute. The first number on the program was a reading called Thanksgiving Day by Carol Rager. Pamela Sue Parker played 2 piano solos, Simple Melody and Tzena, Tzena, Tzena.

The guest speaker was Mrs. Doyle Zimmerman, who spoke on Thanksgiving, its history, and how it is and was celebrated. She closed her informal talk with a Thanksgiving thought.

Another reading was given by Barbara Hentz on Thanksgiving.

From St. Marys, Helen and Mae Dee came to play their electric guitars.

The remainder of the program was presented by the following Jr. Hi. students; two readings—Theresa Tells the Truth and The Picture Show by Joyce Sherland; Saxophone solos by Danny Augh; Beautiful Dreamer and Jeannie With the Light Brown Hair; a reading by Gail Humbles, An Impression of a Thanksgiving Dream and a dialogue by Sally Plain and Lynne Thomas. The Jr. Hi Big Little band played a Thanksgiving

Senior High Thanksgiving Program

The annual high school Thanksgiving program was held during the second period on November 22 in the gym. Virginia Jacobs, who acted as master of ceremonies, also wrote the short two act play entitled "Thanksgiving" which a group of sophomores presented. It was about a rich man, Mr. Davis, played by Jack Walton, who along with his servant Flip, played by Bill Danielson, helps a poor family of seven children. The mother of the children was Delores Brown and her seven children were; Jennifer, Phyllis Bentley; Jim, Don, Dudley; Jack, Emery Balasa; Judy, Mary Louise Grabowski; Nancy, Becky Carrico; John, Karl Joss and Josie, Barbara Crynes.

Another group of students consisting of Virginia Jacobs, Mary Ann Kush, Magdalene Gaedtke, Onalee Hicks, Warren Furnish, Warren Hunn, Emery Balasa, Robert Ftelesler, Jack Walton, Robert Joss gave a choral reading entitled "Thanksgiving Philosophy."

The band under the direction of Mr. Swyers played several numbers during the program. They opened the program with the "New Colonial March" and later played "Moonlight and Roses" and closed the program by playing the "Stars and Stripes Forever."

Janet Lane recited the poem "Injun Summer" with Dennis Rankin playing the part of the little boy.

The Chorus under Mr. Swyers' direction sang "This is My Father's World" with Jackie Riddle singing the solo, and "Grandmother's Thanksgiving."

Miss Hoover and Mr. Stockdale directed the entire program.

song, Come Ye Thankful People Come, and a march, Under the Double Eagle.

The program was closed by Phyllis Towner with a Thanksgiving Prayer.

The program was under the direction of Mrs. Sellers and Mr. Agnes, with Mrs. Sellers acting as master of ceremonies. Also many thanks to Mr. Swyers for his help with the band and to Duane Spencer for his help on the stage.

OUR SYMPATHY

The members of the faculty and the students wish to express our sympathy to Mrs. Schultz, whose father-in-law recently passed away.

"To think," exclaimed the enthusiastic young husband, "that by the time we get all this furniture paid for we shall have genuine antiques."

TEAMWORK

The world is full of problems
 There's much to cause distress;
 We all are bowed beneath the cares
 That daily round us press.
 There's only one solution,
 'Tis simply stated thus:
 "A little less of you or me,
 A little more of us."

The rule of each one for himself
 Most foolish is to follow;
 It brings no savor to the game,
 Its victories are hollow.
 But the other plan has never Failed to bring satisfaction, plus;
 "A little less of you or me,
 A little more of us."

The flake of snow is very small
 'Tis lost to sight quite quickly
 But many flakes, combined, will fill
 The roads and pathways thickly.
 United we can face the fight,
 Without distress or fuss:
 "A little less of you or me,
 A little more of us."

William T. Card

From the Office of the Principal

As reported in a Special Report on Criterion 1 to the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, the Educational Philosophy of our School is stated as follows:

Knowing only too well our human deficiencies, we strive to the best of our ability to render the greatest good to the greatest number.

To have a most amicable relationship between members of the faculty as well as between each faculty member and each student, to make it possible in this complex society to work in a school system which is tremendously over-crowded causing us continuously to improvise—a new high school is on the horizon.

To make the students do better those things they would normally do anyway.

To make students appreciate better our democratic form of government, emphasizing that democracy is impossible without education.

To prepare the student for economic opportunity.

How Christmas Seals Fight Tuberculosis

(This is a diary of a 15 year old girl)

by Virginia Jacobs

Oct. 1 Dear Diary:

I had the oddest dream last night that I have ever had. I dreamed that Tuberculosis came and talked with me. He said that I was losing weight and my appetite was gone. He went on and told me I was always tired, I had indigestion, and that I had been coughing quite a bit lately, and that these were the symptoms of Tuberculosis. I really am worried, I think I will have a talk with mother in the morning.

Good Night Diary.

Oct. 2 Dear Diary:

I told mother about my dream, and she said I'd better have that skin test tomorrow in school. She seemed rather worried; maybe I shouldn't have told her.

Good Night Diary

Oct. 3 Dear Diary:

I had my skin test today, it was simple and harmless. All they did was to give me a shot of tuberculin between the layers of skin on my forearm. If I have Tuberculosis a slight red spot will appear within two days where I had my shot. The nurse said many people who react to this test never get Tuberculosis.

Good Night Diary

Oct. 4 Dear Diary:

My forearm where I had my shot is rather sore today, do you think I have Tuberculosis? I hope not! Diary, can you keep a secret? Guess what! The captain of the football team asked me for a date! Isn't that wonderful! Don't tell.

Good Night Diary

Oct. 5 Dear Diary:

I have very sad news, I could just die. Guess what? My skin test showed a positive reaction. I hope I don't have Tuberculosis! Mother made an appointment with the doctor for tomorrow.

Good Night Diary

Oct. 6 Dear Diary:

I saw the doctor today, he said I'd have to have an x-ray if I wanted to be sure I have Tuberculosis. He said an x-ray will show if any disease has developed in my lung yet. Tomorrow at 10 o'clock I'm to have an x-ray.

Good Night Diary

Oct. 7 Dear Diary:

I had my x-ray this morning, they showed I have Tuberculosis. I shall have to leave school and go to a sanatorium. Dr. Ross is making arrangements for me. I have to pack now, so I will have to close.

Good Night Diary

Oct. 8 Dear Diary:

Well I'm all packed, mother is going to drive me to the sanatorium, it is only 50 miles away. I'm sorry, diary, that I have to leave you behind, but it will only be six months before I see you again.

Good Night Diary

How Christmas Seals Fight Tuberculosis

by Jackie Riddle

Attention all Christmas Seals: Every country is needing you again this year.

One-hundred Christmas Seals call on Mrs. Brown today.

Mrs. Brown's residence? We are the Christmas Seals as you can very plainly see. We've come to see if you won't buy Seals again this year. Yes, we know you bought them last year but this is a new year and because it is a new year different people have the dreaded disease, Tuberculosis. By giving one dollar you receive one-hundred of us or the more money you give the more stamps you receive. Because the more money you give the more lives you save, and who knows, the life you save may be your next door neighbor.

You say you have lots of relatives who buy Christmas Seals? Well since you have so many relatives you could use us on your Christmas cards or better still I'll bet your children would love to make something out of us and hang us on the Christmas tree.

You say you would like to know a little bit about us for your Ladies Circle. Well in 1948, 43,833 was the estimated deaths, and the thing that is awful, 500,000 people are estimated to have active T. B. And you would like to know where your money goes, to the 96 per cent of the people who can't pay for their treatments and also your money cuts down the cost because in 1948 the estimated cost was $350,000,000.

You say you are going to buy two hundred of us, wonderful.

(six months later)

April 8 Dear Diary:

I'm back well and healthy, it is so good to be back; although I did make many new friends at the sanatorium. The first thing I want to do is go and see our Tuberculosis Center. While in the sanatorium I learned of how the sale of Christmas seals help fight Tuberculosis, and I want to do everything I can to help the sale of Christmas seals in our town! I'm very tired Diary, so I will have to say

Good Night

April 9 Dear Diary:

Guess What? I am going to make a series of speeches in our school to help the sale of Christmas seals. The kids will pay attention to my pleas and buy Christmas seals! Because I'm sure they will believe me when I say I might never have recovered, if it hadn't been for Christmas seals, for they bought new machinery and medical equipment to help conquer Tuberculosis! Do you know what I am going to do, Diary? I am going to buy all the Christmas seals my allowance will allow, and I hope everyone will follow me in doing so.

Good Night Diary.

WAS I EMBARRASSED

by Becky and Mary

For this issue we've decided to change this column into an embarrassing one so here goes—

First victim is—

Marilyn Smith and she says—"When Mrs. Barber asks for my grade and I say "I didn't do it" oh for a hole to crawl into.

—Jim Weber said just talking to me was his most embarrassing moment.

Mary Ann Fox didn't know how to put a saddle on a horse and when she got on she and the saddle fell off.

Phyllis Blair—When some boy auctioned off my bathing suit this summer.

Tom Leister—The other day when he was in gym class and the fire bell rang.

Steve Fodroczi—When I got caught smoking in the weeds.

Jerry Miller at my birthday party when I got a pair of bright— (you know what).

BOUQUETS and BRICKBATS

Tossed by

Adaline and Yvonne

To Mr. Fick and Mr. Eaton, Bouquets for a swell job of cheer leading. That's the kind o' leadership that brings out the old school spirit.

Brickbats to certain kids in our cheering section who aren't yelling as loud as we know they can. What's amatter—tender tosils?

That was a fine Thanksgiving program. We all enjoyed it, and naturally it rates Bouquets for all who took part.

Bouquets to Sophs for putting out those schedule pencils. A triple bargain; a good pencil, schedule, and money for their treasury.

A Bouquet to Mr. Swyers for taking the Senior Band on a tour of the Conn Band Instrument Company a couple of Fridays ago. But a Brickbat to that zany song that got on the nerves of everybody but those who were singing it.

Colonials Bow To Adams And Madison

By Dwain Spencer

The John Adams Eagles handed Washington-Clay its first loss of the season 39-28, November 15. It was a nip and tuck battle all the way with the first quarter ending in a 7-7 tie. The next quarter the Eagles outscored the Colonials 12 to 2 to gain a 19-9 margin at the half. In the third quarter the Colonials poured it on and closed the gap to 29-24 at the end of the third quarter. In the fourth quarter Adams widened the margin but not until after we had given them a terrific scare with a rally which continued from the third quarter. Don Oakes led Adams with 22 points and Guy led the Colonials with 12 points. The B-team lost 29-17.

The Washington Clay Colonials traveled to Madison November 17 only to meet defeat 52 to 43. It was a hard fought contest throughout. Madison led at the first quarter 11-8 after jumping off to a fast lead. They widened the margin to 32-21 at half time by hitting 43 per cent of their shots in the first half. The second half they played a stalling game. The leading scorers were Schmeltz with 21 for Madison and Neher with 18 for the Colonials. The B-team lost 40-26.

SPLINTERS FROM THE BENCH

By Don and John

From the observation of these writers, one of the best players in the county seen on the hardwood this year is a boy by the name of Jack Schmeltz. Jack is one of the most deceptive players of his size in this vicinity. He has a wide variety of shots and a good change of pace that ranks him among the best.

Another player to watch is Russel Taylor a Lakeville player. His faking and drive are going to score a lot of points this season.

This Walkerton team really has the fight, with a little more height they could go a long way.

Who is going to be the powerhouse in the city is the big talk around town. In my estimation it will be Washington, Central or Mishawaka. Take your pick.

This B Team of ours has been showing that fight but they always start slow. Maybe Doc Plain will give them a shot of Adrenaline and get them going fast. Keep up the good work boys.

Those new glass backboards at Adams are really swell. In the near future you will see quite a few schools switch to glass.
