

Clay Prom Tomorrow Night

SWITZERLANDERS PLAN EXTENSIVE TOUR

On June 13 a group of Clay High School French students with three adopted students from Riley and Adams and also two teachers will begin living a dream which originated a year ago with a chance remark by Mrs. Schille, Clay's French teacher, "How would you like to study French with me at the University of Leysin, Switzerland next summer?" The suggestion was met with enthusiasm and "vive la France" but at that time seemed an extremely remote possibility. When students began asking how they could enroll in such a course, the project moved a little out of the dream stage.

Information was gathered during the summer and at the opening of school, students began enrolling in a study-tour organized by the Foreign Language League of Salt Lake City, representative of western European universities. The Clay students will be joined at New York City with groups from Indianapolis and Evansville in Indiana as well as from all parts of the United States. They will board a jet at John Fitzgerald Kennedy airport bound for Geneva and then by bus to Leysin located near the eastern end of Lake Geneva.

Miss Martha Fox of the Fort Wayne City Schools, who will serve as co-sponsor, and Mrs. Schille will also enroll for university courses in French and will be able to observe the teaching techniques of native instructors. Formal classes in comprehension, speech, grammar, literature, and culture of the country will be held mornings, afternoons and evenings filled with conversational groups, movies, hikes, field trips, music, folk dancing and talent shows. A student government will be set up to manage student affairs. Jacqueline Cady has been appointed as student representative of the Clay group. Students and chaperones will be housed in university dormitories where most rooms have balconies for mountain viewing.

Various weekend trips sponsored by the university will be taken. Most students will attend the Swiss Fair at Lausanne which is held only every twenty-five years. Some will view the bottom of Lake Geneva aboard a specially constructed submarine at a depth of one thousand feet. Some expect to snow ski at Chamonix, visit Geneva, and Berne in Switzerland; the Riviera and Avignon in France; Milan and Turin in Italy. A small group will go on to Rome for five days. At the end of five weeks of intensive study at the university, all the American students will travel by train to Paris for three days of sight-seeing and shopping. They expect to visit the Louvre, the Latin Quarter, Notre Dame Cathedral and view the city from the top of the Eiffel Tower. They will attend

PROM COUPLES ENTER INTO QUIET VILLAGE

The time of the Clay Junior-Senior Prom of 1964 is fast approaching — tomorrow night from 9-12 p.m. The girls will no longer have to dream about the prom and the boys won't have to imagine their dates in their formals. The magic hours of the prom hold a special spell which envelops all who attend; this spell does not end at midnight.

The prom, whose theme is "Quiet Village," will have a Polynesian atmosphere with the decorations in the gym depicting a tropical village setting. As the couples enter the village, their names will be announced and they will meet several school officials and teachers. On exploring the village, the visitors will see a small hut, trees, and many other attractions of the scenery. The swaying music of The Lettermen will add the final touch to the quiet atmosphere.

The cafeteria and stage room, next to the gym, will be the rooms where the couples may sit at their reserved seats. Punch and various kinds of canapes will be the refreshments. Decorations in these rooms will be in the keeping with the Polynesian atmosphere.

The office entrance of the school will be open if a couples wishes to enter by that door.

Following the prom, the couples may attend a movie at the Grand Theatre and later breakfast at Holly's Restaurant. These activities will be chaperoned by parents and were planned by the Junior class.

A great amount of work and planning have been done to see that our prom will be a success. The Junior class chairmen and co-chairmen have devoted much time and effort to prom activities; they have been helped by their class sponsors. These sponsors are Miss Goss and Mr. Kaser, decorations; Mr. Pierson, tickets; Mr. Mours, refreshments; Mr. Hartke, coronation; Miss Yeager, invitations; Mr. Dunn, servers; Mr. Johnson, programs and favors; Miss Yeager, date bureau; Miss Goss, announcing and receiving; and Mr. Hartke, Junior class head-sponsor. Miss Rhodes has helped a great deal in planning the prom with the chairmen. The Juniors would like to express their appreciation to these teachers and also to those others of the faculty who have helped. For the use of 125 tables, the class would also like to thank Father Funke of Christ the King Church.

Yearbook Dance To Be May 29

The annual yearbook dance will be held on May 29, from 7:30 to 10:30. Admission is 25¢. Students are asked to be sure to bring their receipts if they expect to receive a yearbook. Students will pick up the MINUTEMAN according to class and homeroom section, except those seniors who had names printed on their yearbooks. Students who do not attend the dance may receive their yearbook on Monday, June 1st, during homeroom.

Spark New Club Idea

It is possible that next year, Clay High will be the headquarters of an organization which should put some spark into the lives of our more outdoor minded students. The Archery Club is now on the drawing boards as a proposed intramural activity.

The thought behind all this is credited to fellow student Arthur Kaufman. If any of you readers are interested in this Robin Hood bit, get in touch with him for further details.

Nemeth, Steele Win English Nomination

Christina Nemeth and Susan Steele have been nominated for the annual Achievement Awards Program, sponsored by the National Council of Teachers of English.

For the seventh year, the Council is conducting the national Awards competition to grant recognition to outstanding high school seniors for excellence in English. The writing abilities and literary awareness of each nominee will be judged by local and state committees. NCTE will announce the winners in December, 1964, and will send their names to every U.S. college and university with the recommendation that these students be considered for scholarship assistance.

According to James R. Squire, Executive Secretary of NCTE, the Achievement Awards Program is part of a comprehensive program undertaken by the Council in cooperation with American schools to encourage improvement in English language and literature at all grade levels. The Council is also cooperating with Project English, a national program sponsored by the U.S. Office of Education for improving English instruction. By stimulating interest in English studies and by supporting programs for improved instruction in English, the NCTE seeks to contribute to a national educational program of excellence.

New Colonial Staff Chosen

The COLONIAL staff for next year has been chosen. The staff will consist of eighteen members—fourteen of them being new. Along with Anita Wesley the new editor-in-chief, Tina Nemeth, Cathy Eisbrenner and Chuck Francour, the new members, will be working hard to put out many good papers throughout the year of 1964-65.

Pat Biek, a sophomore, is a member of the Future Doctors Club and GAA. She enjoys listening to music by Stravinski and Beethoven and playing folk music on her guitar. Pat also likes to read in her spare time. After graduation she wants to attend college at Oberlin or Radcliffe.

Pam Bowers is a sophomore and a member of GAA, the girls' volleyball team, and Future Teachers. She also belongs to the Horizon Club. Pam enjoys listening to records, playing the organ, and swimming.

Debbie Clark is a sophomore and a member of Student Council, Health Careers, Latin Club, Y-Teens, and GAA. She enjoys reading and listening to records or the radio in her spare time.

Karen DeVoe, a sophomore, is a member of the Foreign Exchange Committee, Y-Teens, GAA, and is class secretary. Her interests outside of school are the Horizon Club, Rainbow, and Youth Fellowship. She plans to attend college after graduation.

Mary Dillon is president of her class and a member of Student Council. She also belongs to the Foreign Exchange Committee, Y-Teens, French Club and the Horizon Club. Mary enjoys reading, sewing, playing the piano, and swimming.

Tom Hall is a member of the band and on the cross-country, wrestling, and track teams. He dislikes the Beatles but is interested in micro-biology and nature.

Larry Harrell has been a member of Hi-Y, band, and the Stamp and Coin Club. He likes bowling and listening to the Beatles. Larry hopes to go to an engineering school after graduation, probably Purdue.

Linda MacLennan is a member of Student Council, FTA, Y-Teens, GAA, and Speech and Debate. In her spare time she enjoys writing letters, reading and playing the piano. After graduation Linda plans to attend Indiana State or Ball State.

Ron Miller is a member of Student Council and enjoys bowling and golfing. His favorite foods are hamburgers, marshmallow coke and pie. He plans to attend I.U. after graduation.

Robyn Rouch enjoys bowling and swimming. After graduation she plans to be a beautician then enroll at I.U. and major in music. During her spare time she works at Rouch's.

CHEERLEADERS SELECTED BY NEW METHOD

The new cheerleaders for the varsity, and Leanne Capelli, Debbie Davis, and Susie Whiting, B-1964-65 season are Micki Bernath, Kay Kelderhouse, Liz Manley, Linda Papach, and Sherri Verdell, team.

Micki Bernath has had experience before as a cheerleader, having previously been a freshman cheerleader and serving on the varsity squad this past year. Micki is active in Student Council, Y-Teens and French Club. She enjoys sleeping, sewing, dating Dave, and eating. Her favorite foods are pork, carrots, and ice cream.

Kay Kelderhouse is a new student at Clay this year from New Buffalo, Michigan. Although this will be her first year of cheerleading at Clay she has been a cheerleader before in both junior high and high school.

Liz Manley has been a cheerleader for the past three years. Last year she was a B-team cheerleader and she was also a cheerleader in junior high. In her spare time she likes to sew, be with Tom, and attend as many school sports activities as she can.

Linda Papach will gain much experience next year in her first year on the varsity squad. Linda is a member of Speech and Debate, GAA, and treasurer of FTA. Being as athletic as she is, she enjoys swimming, dancing, and outdoor sports. Pork, dumplings, and sauerkraut are her favorite foods.

Sherri Verdell has been a B-team cheerleader for two years and was also a cheerleader during her freshman year. Sherri has been quite active in her years at Clay. Recently she was chosen by the senior class to be a junior leader for the commencement exercises. In her spare time she likes to sew, eat, go horseback riding, attend spectator sports, and make little trips up to Niles.

Leanne Capelli will experience her first year of cheerleading next season as a member of the B-team squad. Leanne is a member of F.T.A. and Y-Teens and has recently been elected to the Student Council. To occupy her spare time, which she claims she rarely has, she likes to sew, play the piano, go to baseball games, and have a date now and then.

Debbie Davis is new at Clay this year. She comes to us from Tippecanoe, Indiana. Having been a cheerleader for three years, it is (Continued on Page 2, Column 1)

SPEECH AND HEARING THERAPY

Approximately 4% of the nation's school-age children have seriously impaired speech or hearing. Of these 1.5 million, scarcely one out of five, is being provided with remedial instruction. Approximately 20,000 speech correctionists and hearing therapists, five times the number currently available, would be needed to staff a fully developed remedial program in our nation's schools.

Speech and hearing therapy is a critical area and the field is wide open for anyone who is interested and meets the qualifications. Types of employment include work in a public school system, in a hospital or clinic, and in city and school clinics for testing and casework. The salary for a speech and hearing therapist is as high or higher than that of a regular teacher.

Ball State offers an excellent program for those interested in becoming speech and hearing therapists. The freshman and sophomore years are spent fulfilling general college requirements. Most speech and hearing courses are taken during the junior and senior years; however, courses in phonetics and voice science may be taken during the first two years. Courses in speech pathology, introduction to hearing disorders, audimetric testing, and anatomy; and clinic courses in speech correction and lip reading are offered. Additional courses applicable for special permit to teach the deaf are offered in the summer sessions and may be completed in a two-year period.

Ball State's summer clinic provides excellent opportunities for speech and hearing therapy students to work directly with youngsters of all ages, as well as to earn valuable clinic hours.

Participation in speech and hearing therapy is held at Burriss, the Ball State Laboratory School. Student teaching may be done half-days at nearby schools or full-time at schools farther away, through special arrangement.

Ball State offers the Bachelor of Science degree in speech and hearing therapy. Requirements may be completed in four years and include 57 credit hours in the major area of speech and hearing and 36 credit hours in a restricted minor area. A total of 186 credit hours is required for graduation.

The B.S. degree qualifies you as a public school speech and hearing therapist. It does not qualify you as a regular teacher of the deaf. However, Ball State has a new plan whereby a series of four graduate level courses (taken during a period of two summers) will qualify you and eventually lead to a permanent license.

Requirements for the Master of Arts degree include 45 credit hours at the graduate level in speech and hearing. M.A. degree holders are qualified as clinical therapists in hospitals or community speech clinics.

ROCKFORD COLLEGE

An entirely new campus is being developed on 304 acres of land at the eastern edge of the city of Rockford, Illinois. Students have joined with faculty, trustees, alumni, and architects in planning this college community. Four residence units and a classroom building have been completed; the College Center is under construction and plans for additional buildings are being completed.

Rockford College is open to all students, regardless of religious affiliation. This year 431 fulltime students attended. More than 60 percent of the 54 faculty members hold doctoral degrees.

An applicant is required to fill out an application blank, take the Scholastic Aptitude Test of the College Entrance Examination Board, have satisfactorily completed the high school course, and have approval of the college physician of his health record. Students are ordinarily required to offer 15 units of preparatory work for admission. Tuition and fees for the college year for a program of 12 to 17 semester hours is $1000. (This includes laboratory fees, student government fees, college fees, arts fund fees, and the athletic admissions fees.) Board and Room cost in a college dormitory during the academic year is $800.

Special scholarships are awarded to twenty outstanding entering students. These scholarships are The Jane Addams, Aratus Kent, Five Second Century, and Thirteen Trustee Scholarships. General and area scholarships, grants-in-aid, loans, and student employment also enable students to receive financial assistance.

Rockford College offers courses leading to the degrees of Bachelor of Arts, Master of Arts in Teaching, and Master of Arts in Social Studies. Programs leading to the Bachelor of Science degree were discontinued with the class entering in 1962.

Student activities at the college are under the direction of the Rockford College Student Government and are supported by allocations from the student activity fees. Twenty-three organizations offer students a wide variety of activities and interests.

Rockford is 17 miles south of the Wisconsin border and 90 miles northwest of Chicago.

Cheerleaders Selected

Susie Whiting will enter her second year of cheerleading next year. She was formerly a cheerleader at the junior high. Susie likes to eat, dance, go to wrestling meets, and date Tracy. She also enjoys meeting new people and making friends.

INDUCT TWO IN HONOR SOCIETY

The National Honor Society held their spring induction on Monday, May 4. The two new members are Brigitte Coughenour and Roger Benko, both seniors. Those who spoke at the induction are Mike Smith, Education; Tina Nemeth, Scholarship; Janice Johnson, Character; Anita Wesley, Service; and Denis Thomas, Leadership. Mr. Hodge also gave a short speech and welcomed the new members into the club. The oath was administered by Mr. Harbaugh. After the induction a tea was held in the cafeteria for those who attended.

STUDENT COUNCIL REPRESENTATIVES ELECTED FOR 64-65

The Student Council has been elected for 1964-65. Under the new system primary election was held first and then the finals.

From the junior class 8 members were elected and from the sophomore and freshman class 10 were elected.

The junior members are Micki Bernath, Chuck Francour, Jerry Gardner, Dave Hicks, Kay Montgomery, Rick Morgan, Kathy Tooper, Sherry Verdell.

The sophomores are Mary Dillon, Andy Singer, Jane Shriner, Ken Wilson, Ron Miller, Debbie Clark, Charles Towne, Linda MacLennan, Leanne Capelli, Craig Hartzell.

Seniors Make Plans

For seniors the high school days have just about ended. With graduation comes many things. It is without a doubt a very busy time for all, with the selection of the class motto, flower, and colors; the election of the junior leaders; the selection of the class gift; and the making of plans for commencement.

Baccalaureate is May 31 at 4:00 p.m. in John Adams High School. Caps and gowns will be worn and the parents will be invited to this event. Central, Washington, and Adams will also participate in Baccalaureate.

Commencement is June 3 at 8:00 p.m. in the Clay Junior High gymnasium. The exercises will be very simple with only the valedictorian and salutatorian's speeches and the distributing of diplomas.

The Junior leaders that were chosen to lead the graduating seniors at commencement are Sherri Verdell and Randy Goss.

The class of 1964 chose as its motto "The past is a prologue of the future," and the color and flowers is to be red and white, and roses. They will be used in the decoration scheme for commencement. It was voted on to give as the class gift money for the sign on Cleveland Road.

AFS STUDENTS TO VISIT CLAY

On June 27 a bus load of foreign students who are touring the United States will stop at Clay. They will stay from Saturday to the following Monday, June 29.

The weekend will be spent seeing Notre Dame and Saint Mary's mosaic church, attending a potluck dinner in their honor Sunday evening, and concluding their visit with a talent show consisting of the exchange students and our own Clay talent. It should prove to be a lot of fun for everyone.

Latin Club Holds Annual Banquet

On March 21, the Latin Club held their annual Roman Banquet. Everyone attending was attired in authentic Roman dress. As each member entered the school he was given a bag of 100 coins. The foyer was decorated as the Roman Forum in which were located shops and gambling casinos. Here the Clay Romans could spend their money, lose their money, buy slaves, or if they were lucky, win money.

The menu included baked chicken, baked turnips, lettuce, olives, cheese, radishes, dates, grapes, eggs, honey and home-made bread. Since the Romans did not use forks, the Clay Romans also ate without forks. The tables were decorated in Roman style. The food was prepared by Mrs. Clifford Johnson, Mrs. James McKeough, Mrs. Douglass Farquhar, and Mrs. Richard Huskins.

Four golden apples were awarded to the students with the most authentic costumes. Charms made from old Greek coins were given to the three students with the most money at the end of the evening. The winners were Andrea Singer, Jean Hackley, and Steven Nells.

Saturday, April 18, Mrs. Seward and 12 members of the Clay Latin Club accompanied the Penn High School Latin Club to the Indiana Junior Classical League's State Convention at Ball State Teachers College.

Dr. William Wilson, the state superintendent of Public Instruction and a member of the I.J.C.L., gave the greeting. Bruce Nyatt, National Junior Classical League President, from Wichita, Kansas, gave information on the 1964 National Convention to be held at the University of Illinois, August 9-13. Dr. Wallace Magoon, head of the Foreign Language Department at Ball State, talked on "Why the Romans Wrote." Dr. Magoon is a very forceful and dynamic speaker who kept everyone awake.

In the afternoon the work shops were followed by a Roman "Hootenanny," sponsored by 12 clubs from the Indianapolis area.

After the committee reports a delegate from each chapter presented the chapter's checks for the Future Latin Teachers Fund. Those presenting checks were dressed in Roman garb. Chris Johnson represented the Clay chapter.

After the newly elected officers for 1964-65 were introduced, the meeting was adjourned. There is a rumor that certain Clay students met some very interesting Penn students on the bus.

WESLEY TO GO TO HOLLAND

Last Monday Anita Wesley was informed that she will be spending this summer with a family in Holland as an AFS exchange student. She is one of approximately 850 American Field Service exchange students going abroad for the summer.

Anita will live with a family in Gaanderen, Holland, near the German border. The family's name is Popping. There are three children—Maria 16, Elly 6, and Theo, 15. The father is a bricklayer-contractor, and the family is considered middle-class.

Anita will leave for the Netherlands on June 27. She will sail on the ship Seven Seas with all the AFS exchange students going to Europe for the summer. She will return to New York by boat on September 10.

ETMUELLER CHOSEN FOR BOYS' STATE

The winner of Boys' State from our school is Dennis Etmueller and the alternates are Dave Hicks and Steve Biasini. The Boys' State is sponsored by the Lions Club.

Out of the upper third of the junior class, forty-five boys were selected. From the 45, eight were chosen best by the teachers. Of these eight only three were able to write a paper to be submitted under the title of "What I can do for my school and community through Boys' State."

Boys' State is often defined as a practical experience in politics. However, it is certainly much more. Boys' State is an institution which instills in young men a love for America and all the high ideals for which our great nation stands. In this way Boys' State prepares American young men—the leaders of tomorrow—to accept and fulfill their responsibilities of perpetuating the democratic form of government. This responsibility will be a difficult task since so many people in the world strive to supplant democracy with tyranny.

Yet, in addition to possessing the desire to preserve and follow the tenets of democracy, one must become familiar with the operation of democratic government. To teach through experience the operation of our representative form of government is the primary objective of Boys' State. In the process, however, one cannot help but be instilled with a genuine feeling of patriotism.

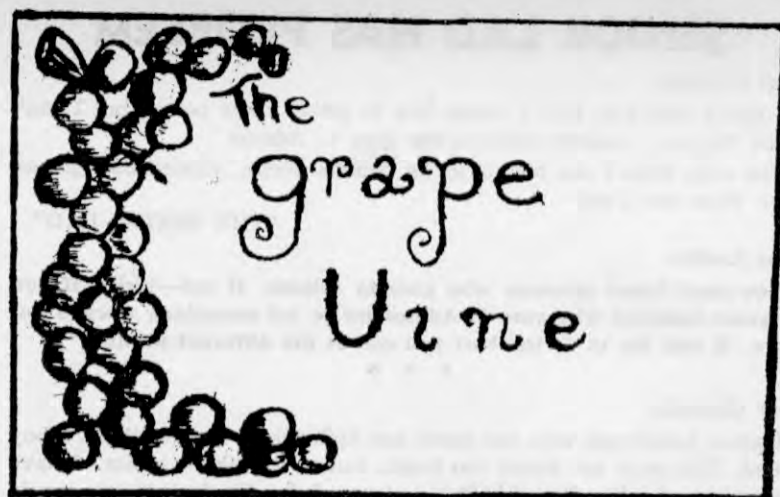

ARE YOU SICK OF HEARING —

College! College! That's all you hear in some circles. And while it is important, no doubt, you hear about it so much that some people are beginning to think that if you don't go to college something must be wrong with you. The fact is that college is not the most important thing. What is important is that seniors have some definite and positive plans about what they plan to do when they are graduated.

Times do change. The last fifteen years have seen a revolution in the employment picture. There are plenty of jobs for young people. But they are the kind of jobs that require some degree of training. Probably, it is from this fact that a lot of students have got the idea that the place you get the training is in college. It is true that there are many college programs that do train students for specific jobs. It is also that there are many programs that do not train students for a specific job title. There are many college graduates who are disappointed. They feel that college training automatically trains them for some kind of job.

Many people don't realize that there are many fine so-called vocational schools that train young students for excellent jobs. Schools in practical nursing, medical technology, electronic repair, art, automobile mechanics, accounting and many other lines of work. These schools have courses that run from 6-month courses to programs lasting as much as three years. Checking with employers and counselors will give you information about these schools.

Remember, make definite plans. Then find the type of training program that best fits your pocketbook, personality and needs.

The guys at Sears have branded Phil Lehman with a new nickname. It has something to do with his lugging a bag of fertilizer around the store one day; but unfortunately, Phil isn't revealing his new name to anyone.

One of the chemistry teachers on Student Day made the surprising statement that sulfur is used in "insecticides."

Charles Hunter has a new pastime that includes pushing girls off benches at miniature golf courses. He then proceeds to laugh and leaves the poor girl sprawled on the ground. Shame on you, Charles.

Poor Rick Hobkirk; he received five tickets in one night and all he was doing was driving around. That was an expensive ride, Rick.

Judy Singer had a little accident while swimming at the Natatorium last week. When she dived off the diving board, she almost lost the top half of her bathing suit—OOPS.

A few wise guys at Clay seem to think this is a farm instead of a school. Chickens, pigs, and snakes have been found in the courtyard lately, and have not been greatly appreciated either. Come kids, keep Clay a school we can be proud of.

Cheri Dunkleberger sure has a hard time getting to baseball games at Bendix Park. It took her over an hour to get from her house to the park a few weeks ago; but of course getting lost and having car trouble does slow you down.

The police patrol the area around our school quite often. The other night Linda Frederickson was stopped by one of the patrol cars. When asked by the officer what she had been doing, she answered, "Honest, officer, I didn't do a thing."

Sheila Reynolds doesn't particularly want to go to Healthwin Hospital again after she had a mishap on the way there after school last week.

Tom Gillen and Jan Russell almost didn't make it to her prom last week. After they arrived at Penn for the prom, Jan realized that she had forgotten the tickets. So, back they all went to her house, and after searching her wallet where she thought the tickets were, Jan ransacked her room. She finally came back to the car with the tickets — they were in her wallet after all, behind Tom's picture.

The couples for the prom this year are very interesting. Here are a few of the couples:

Anita Wesley and Kerry Weger
Pat Kennedy and Jerry Gardner
Sue Ford and Jim Knight
Alisa Shriner and Phil Lehman
Mary Lynn Bernath and Dick Fogle
Trudy Fietzek and Greg Bowton
Sue Steele and Mark Hosinski
Lee Obenchain and Linda Papach

PROM COURT ANNOUNCED

The prom court for this year was announced this week as follows: Mary Lynn Bernath, Soheir Hafez, Judy Singer, Cheryl Tam, John Arnold, Roger Benko, Dick Fogle, and Tom Hawkinson. The court was elected by the junior class who voted in their English classes. Saturday night, the king and queen of the prom will be crowned from this group of students.

Mary Lynn Bernath has been a very active student here at Clay. She has been a cheerleader, class officer, Student Council member and officer, a Y-Teen member, and is now serving on the AFS Committee. Mary Lynn was co-queen of School Spirit Week.

Soheir Hafez, our foreign exchange student, has come to us from Egypt to help on the AFS Committee. Besides her many activities here at school, she has many speaking engagements throughout the area.

Judy Singer, a member of National Honor Society, has served on Student Council and the yearbook staff. She was a cheerleader, a representative on the Homecoming Court, and Track Queen last year. Judy received the D.A.R. Award this year and was also co-queen of School Spirit Week.

Cheryl Tam, the senior representative on the Homecoming court, is a member of National Honor Society and has been a member of Student Council. She has been an active member of Y-Teens and the Spanish Club.

Jon Arnold has participated in many sport activities including baseball, football, and basketball. He has been a class officer, Student Council representative, and is a National Honor Society member.

Roger Benko, the president of Student Council this year, has been an active member of that organization for several years. Rog has participated in sports such as basketball and baseball. He also reigned as king of School Spirit Week.

Dick Fogle, one of our sports-minded seniors, has participated in sports and club activities here at Clay.

Tom Hawkinson, a new student this year from Central, has been selected as the final member of the prom court.

The New Colonial Staff

(Continued from Page 1, Column 4) Foreign Exchange, and is the GAA president. She has also been a class officer the past two years. Andy likes to read, swim, talk and right now her main interests are philosophy and folk music.

John Tarbox is a member of Future Doctors Club, Speech and Debate and the baseball team. He likes to snow ski, golf, and play baseball and basketball. John enjoys listening to the Kingston Trio and Peter, Paul, and Mary.

Charles Towne is a member of French Club, Student Council, and band. He enjoys all sports and reading. His favorite subject is math and his favorite foods are beef stew and steak.

Janice Turrell is in Future Teachers, GAA, and cheerblock. In her spare time she likes to listen to the Beatles and play any kind of sport. She collects stuffed dolls of all countries.

"Give My Regards to Broadway," "Forty-five Minutes From Broadway," "Yankee Doodle Dandy," and "You're a Grand Old Flag."

The program was then closed with the Star Spangled Banner.

This was the last concert of the year to be performed by the bands here. We can appropriately take this opportunity to extend our thanks for the good music the band has presented to us and extend our congratulations to the band and to Mr. Norman for doing a fine job of representing our school throughout the year.

Band Wins Second at State Contest

April 18, the Clay High School Band participated for the second time in class AA in the Northern Indiana School Band, Orchestra, and Vocal Association State Band Contest at Goshen. The band played the New Colonial March by R. B. Hall, The First Suite in E flat by Gustav Holst, and the North Sea Overture by Ralph Hermann. The band performed these selections in an extremely large gym and then went on to the Goshen band room where they played two selections which had just been published.

There were three competent men in music who judged the prepared selections and one who judged the sight-reading.

The first judge of our prepared selections said the band's biggest problem was lack of consistency.

Ah Nature!

The recent warm weather brought more than violets popping up in Clay's new court. It brought heads popping from windows peering out into the lush greenery of the court. Thousands of eyes watched breathlessly, even nature enacted its harsh scenes. Those few with sharp eyes saw that in the tangled Oak thicket, that Bessie, the blue racer, was once again on the rampage. It seems as though Charley, the centipede who has endeared himself to Clay students all these years, had caught one of his legs in one of the small crevices which was left over from the work done by old "Pancake" Comstock when he was working with the Ponderosa bunch. Well, Charley created quite a commotion in the thicket with his other 99 legs thrashing around, and it must have been this that attracted old Bessie Blue to the scene. Meanwhile Madame Butterfly and her crew came over and they were churning around beating up this tremendous wind. The PA was going Beep Beep. Rudy was running around like crazy. Somebody knocked over the coffee pot in the teacher's lounge. Then they had a student council meeting. Boy, it was a day.

Then the great white hunters appeared upon the scene using 30-caliber slingshots. Bessie got scared. Charley got loose, but at the cost of his leg, which is now preserved in the case in the main hall along with other objects of art. Bessie took off. Heads popped back in windows. Coffee started perking. And the council meeting adjourned.

VARIOUS STYLES TO BE SEEN AT PROM

Many varied styles of dress will be seen at the prom tomorrow night. For those of you who may not go or are just curious as to what you will see, this reporter has polled several of the young ladies who will make their appearances there.

Jan Eisbrenner will wear a floor-length formal of white crystalline, a material which has the appearance of organza over taffeta. The material has tiny embroidered roses in blue scattered over it. The dress itself features a bell skirt and a teardrop neckline.

Jan will accessorize her dress with matching blue shoes and a purse made of the same material as her dress. In her hair, which she will wear up, she will have rhinestone jewelry.

White lace over powder blue satin is Pat Kennedy's choice for her full-length, straight formal. The bodice has a high neckline in front and is slightly lower in the back. The back of Pat's dress is adorned with a large blue satin bow which extends from the waist to the floor.

Nancy Keller will appear in a light blue chromespun gown with a long, bell-shaped skirt and a scooped neckline. The dress has wide straps and is very simple. Her accessories will consist of short white gloves, white shoes and a matching evening bag.

Crystal jewelry, short white gloves and matching shoes will

He felt the band was very good at times but faulted too often, probably, he believed, because the selections were a little too difficult to be played in sequence by our band. This judge gave the band a high third rating (described as "good").

The second judge was in agreement with the first in that the selection especially the North Sea Overture, was somewhat too difficult for the band. He mostly criticized individual sectional problems instead of the whole band. The second judge also gave the band a high third rating.

The third judge for our prepared selections said that the band showed excellent possibilities but was short of being a first rate band because of intonation, mainly in the North Sea Overture, an extremely, difficult piece. This judge gave the band a second (superior) and wished the band good luck in the future.

The majority of the band members seemed relieved but pessimistic after the prepared selections were played. The large gym in which the band performed was partially to blame for the ratings and the pessimism. The band is accustomed to playing in a small room where the close ceiling and wells make the sound of the surrounding instruments much louder. However, when playing in this large gym, the surrounding instruments were almost inaudible, making each person feel as if he was playing alone, upsetting the balance which the band is used to hearing.

In sight reading (in a smaller room), Clay's band reached a superior (first) rating, being highly complimented by the judge.

Mr. Norman is optimistic about bettering this year's second in the near future. He says there is some very good material coming up from B-band and the junior high.

Clay is proud of the work being done by the band and Mr. Norman and we wish you the best of luck in the future.

adorn Trudy Fietzek's outfit tomorrow night. Her dress is of blue peau de soir with a scoop neckline, elbow length sleeves. Trudy's dress has the new type of detachable, floor-length skirt with the short skirt beneath. The skirt is wrap-around with a scalloped closure.

Although most girls seem to have selected floor-length dresses, a few have chosen to wear short formals.

Kaye Berger has chosen a dress of mint green chiffon over taffeta. The dress has a short, unpressed pleat skirt and tiny, rolled satin straps. The bodice is fitted chiffon over taffeta with ribbon detail and embroidered flowers. The flowers are studded with tiny mint green pearls and rhinestones. Medium green satin shoes, and long white evening gloves and purse will accessorize her costume.

A white ballerina length dress will be worn by Carolyn Schreiner. The fitted white bodice has spaghetti straps and blue carnations with an avocado green cummerbund. Carolyn will also wear white patent leather shoes, white elbow length gloves, a powder blue wrap, and a blue crystal necklace and bracelet.

With all these lovely fashions that are mentioned and those that still remain to be seen, the prom is sure to be a sparkling affair. The fellows will be dazzled by the loveliness of their dates.

ALISA SHRINER

DENIS THOMAS

Outstanding Seniors

Outstanding seniors Alisa Shriner and Denis Thomas are featured in this issue of the COLONIAL. Their high school years have been full of activities which have enriched their lives and knowledge.

Alisa has been in the Spanish Club for three years and has held the offices of president and treasurer. She has also been a member of the French, Y-Teens, and Art Clubs.

Alisa has had many opportunities to prove her acting ability. She played "Anne" in the play, Diary of Anne Frank, with the Presbyterian Players. At the Indiana University Campus in South Bend, she played "Laura" in The Glass Menagerie.

Alisa's favorite types of music are jazz and folk music. Her favorite musician is Dave Brubeck and her favorite singer is Joan Baez. Oriental food and coffee with ice cream are foods which she enjoys eating.

Alisa's favorite motto is, "Goldwater in '64."

After graduation, Alisa plans to attend Northwestern University, majoring in theater or creative writing.

Alisa has this to say about a world problem, "I believe it is important that people be informed as to the situations in the world today, and form opinions based on fact, not personal prejudice."

Denis Thomas, a member of the National Honor Society, has been a member of many clubs. He has been in the Spanish, Ushers, and Student Council Clubs; he has been in the Future Teachers' Association for three years. Denis has also been a member of the baseball team.

Folk music is Denis' favorite form of music, although there are few forms which he doesn't enjoy. Classical and Broadway musicals, such as Beethoven's "Symphony No. 5," Grieg's "Peer Gynt Suite," Handel's "Messiah," and "West Side Story," are the types of arrangements he likes best. Above any other song or singer, Denis enjoys listening to Fred Riffel's version of "Blue Velvet." Next to Fred, Peter, Paul, and Mary and the New Christy Minstrels are his favorites.

Milk, steak, fresh strawberries, and corn on the cob are the foods which Denis enjoys eating the most.

From a poem about death, "Crossing the Bar" by Alfred, Lloyd Tennyson, Denis takes his favorite quote,

"For though from out our borne of Time and Place
The flood may bear me far,
I hope to see my Pilot face to face
When I have crossed the bar."

After graduation, Denis plans to attend a college in Indiana; he will be going into education.

As an extraneous comment, Denis says, "Although I won't be around much longer, I sincerely hope the school irons out many of its growing pains and becomes — academically and athletically — the school we all want it to be. There is only one thing that depresses me: the music in the morning. If Fred Riffel could only be allowed to hum a few bars of "Blue Velvet"

Foreign Accent Added To Meals

You really can travel around the world by preparing foods that are native of certain countries. Once in a while it is fun to leave "good old American cooking" and do some sight-tasting!

Desserts and salads are easy accompaniments to meals. The main course may be prepared as usual, but a foreign sparkle is added by a tantalizing salad.

For an extravagant and exciting French feature try your hand at Marinade de Troix Legames, or Shrimp Salad Deauville. If your ancestors were German, show off a little with spicy Heiss Kartoffel Salat (German Hot Potato Salad).

For an Oriental effect try Indian Pochadi and Turkish Yalandzi Dolmos (Stuffed Grape Leaves). South of the border Guacamole Salad with avacados (from Mexico) is quite popular.

Foreign desserts are fun to prepare at any time, but they are even more enjoyable for a party or a holiday. Elegant touches are added with French dishes such as Blender Pots de Creme, Creme de La Creme of Custard, and Tortoni. Viennese Coconut Macaroons and Tortes are delightful additions to any meal. Plum Pudding from England is traditional as are Norwegian Lace Cookies and Danish Kringsles. Swiss Apple Pie and Krumel Torte and Strudel from Germany give an accent of the "old country."

Do not be scared off by the foreign titles such as Alfajores (from Chile), Mansikkatorttu (Finland's Strawberry Tart), and Leche Quemada (Mexican Burned Milk Candy). Give these new ideas a whirl and you will find that you are the greatest international cook around. (For the recipes mentioned in this article, you may contact Christina Nemeth.)

SENIOR LAD HAS PROBLEM

Dear Grannie:

I met a new girl, that I would like to get to know better, but I can't break the ice — mainly because she goes to Adams.

The only time I see her, is at an Adams event. (Basketball games, etc.) What can I do?

"THE SENIOR LAD"

Dear Laddie:

You must know someone who goes to Adams. If not—well? If you do know someone who goes to Adams try to get something worked out there. If not, try to do the best you can at the different events.

Dear Grannie:

I am a junior girl who has spent her high school days without a boy friend. This may not sound too tragic, but now I like a senior. I have never wanted a boy friend before, but now I do. He doesn't date much. What should I do?

HOPELESS

Dear Hopeless:

Try to be as charming as possible. Do not over-indulge though. Be thoughtful and considerate. Above all be pleasant to this boy whenever you talk to him.

Dear Grannie:

I have a problem. I like a boy, and I think the world of him. He thinks the world of me (I hope). The only thing is he doesn't like to be funny. He looks on the serious side of everything. I like this other boy too and he is sweet and kind and has a good sense of humor. I don't know which one to like. Please help me.

CONFUSED

Dear Confused:

Choose the one whom you like best and have the most fun with.

Tribune Gives Award to Clay

On Tuesday, May 12, a dinner was given at the South Bend Tribune to honor the High School Page reporters. Clay's representatives were Mr. Jon Davis and Tina Nemeth. The main speaker for the event was Walter Collins and John Powers gave the awards. This is the first year that Clay has received citation by the Tribune. Tina Nemeth also received an award for outstanding achievement in reporting.

Dear Grannie:

I'm in a group that hasn't got the best reputation. My girl friend is always telling me to get out of it, but every time I get around them I just can't seem to say no. I've got a girl friend in the group whom I think the world of. I'm unhappy in the group, but I like a boy in there who is going steady. What should I do?

MIXED UP

Dear Mixed Up:

Follow your girl friend's advice. Get out before this group gives you the same bad reputation. Regardless of the fact that you have a crush on this boy, you should realize that, because he is going steady, you have very little chance with him.

Dear Grannie:

I've got a boy I like very much. He's taken me out twice and the other day he told me he liked me. But he is going steady with another girl. He asked me if he broke up with her if I'd go with him. He said he'd break up with her a week ago and he hasn't yet. He said he likes me; but he likes her too, and he just can't break up. This is the first boy in months I have really liked. What should I do — still go out with him and try to get him or just drop him and forget him?

TROUBLED

Dear Troubled:

You have the right idea — drop him. He'll only play you along like he has so far.

Dear Grannie:

I'm really wondering what kind of kids go to Clay. I have many friends but some of them really bug me. As we were talking today they kept saying how much they hated Clay and how much they want to go to Adams or Penn. This really makes me mad. We have a fine school and I'm proud of it. Personally, I wouldn't want to go to any other school around. What kind of school spirit do these kids have anyway. Certainly not for Clay.

A CLAYITE

Dear Clayite:

I think most of the kids in school at some time or another get disappointed in their school life. They probably love Clay as much as you do. I think the kids reading this should take heed though.

Switzerlanders

They will leave Paris by boat train and cross the channel to London for more sightseeing. They are hoping to meet Gilly Williams who was Clay's first foreign exchange student there. After touring the city, they will go on to Stratford-on-Avon where festivities are in progress celebrating the 400th anniversary of the birth of Shakespeare. Tickets have been secured for a performance at the Royal Shakespeare Theatre. After a farewell party, the group will start home, July 25.

Encouragement and information have come from many sources for this venture which is the first high school student-tour for the South Bend area. Mrs. Edgerton of Edgerton's Travel Service met with the group to explain immunization, passports and custom regulations, and advice on what to take along. Mrs. Virginia Hartman of the Public Library presented booklets and films on Switzerland, France, and England. James Morrow, Hillsdale College student and former Clay French student, met with the boys to help them with their clothes selection. He also visited all French classes to lecture and answer questions. The Frances Shop presented a style show and tips for travelers in April. Mr. Galen Miller of the audio-visual center of the South Bend Community Schools arranged with WSJV-TV to present the weekly film series "En France" for class viewing and discussion. Other meetings, a luncheon at the Indiana Club, and a bon voyage party will be held prior to the take-off.

Students attending from Clay will be Geza Bruckner, Jacqueline Cady, Karen De Voe, Mary Dillon, William Eckert, Tracy Hamilton, Louanna Hartman, John and Pam Hutchinson, Joe Krillenberger, Carol Lambert, Carole Mulderink, Diane Nicodemus, Ruth Ann Paulsen, Alisa and Jane Shriner, Randy Stoltenberg, and Diane Webber.

While on tour several of these people hope to meet friends and relatives. In Paris they hope to meet the American Consul, Mr. Woodward Romine, who is a former Clay Township resident. Ruth Ann Paulsen expects to visit the French family at Lyon with whom she lived several weeks last summer. In England Diane Nicodemus will arrange to see her grandparents and other relatives for the first time. Many students look forward to meeting their French pen pals while touring there.

HONOR LEDGER ESTABLISHED TO RECOGNIZE STUDENTS

In the past Principal Bert Hodge has expressed a desire for establishing an Honor Ledger to recognize the outstanding achievement of students at Clay. This Honor Ledger has finally become a reality; and on May 14 the first group of students to have their names and the honors they had received recorded in this Ledger were honored at a PTA meeting.

Tarbox to Visit United Nations

John Tarbox, a Clay sophomore, won a two-week trip to the United Nations. The trip is sponsored by the Robert Blum Odd Fellows Lodge of South Bend. Tarbox competed with four other contestants for the honor. Final selection was made on the basis of a comprehensive examination about the function of the world organization. Although the 17-day trip is concerned primarily with the United Nations, Tarbox will have time to see many of the sights in New York City including the World's Fair. He will also see such sights as Gettysburg, Washington, D. C., and Niagara Falls in Canada. Tarbox is expected to leave in about five weeks. Upon return from his trip, he will be expected to speak to as many clubs, organizations, and schools as possible.

To establish this Honor Ledger at Clay it took many months of careful planning and organization. First a committee was formed to work on the Ledger. This committee was headed by Mr. Hodge, Miss Goss, and Mr. Kaser. There were also two representatives from each class on this committee who attended the meetings and offered suggestions.

As the Honor Ledger progressed, names were submitted to the committee of different students and the honor each one had received. The school records of these students, as well as any other pertinent information, concerning them, was reviewed and discussed by the committee. These students were then voted on, and the ones whose achievements seemed outstanding in the eyes of the committee were selected for the Honor Ledger.

These students will receive a certificate of recognition. It will include their name, the honor (for which they are being recognized) that was received, the date on which they received it, and what they did to receive this honor. A copy of this certificate will also be entered in the Honor Ledger.

If anyone knows of a person whom they think is worthy of receiving a certificate and of having his or her name entered in the Honor Ledger, please contact Miss Goss or Mr. Kaser.

The Honor Ledger is far from completion. Names will continue to be added to the Ledger as the students of Clay continue to do outstanding work in the fields of science, athletics, music, speech and debate, and many others.

Auto Shop Receives Studebaker Products

The automechanics shop received a good number of automotive products from the Studebaker Corporation during the week of April 20 to 25.

The shop received a number of new products which are as follows: one supercharged Avanti engine, one complete chassis (minus body), two rear end assemblies, two four-barrel carburetors, two distributors.

These things were given to the school through Mr. McIntosh. Mr. McIntosh is a resident of Clay township, and has a daughter who goes to the high school. Throughout the year the school has received numerous engine accessories from the Studebaker Corporation. The boys in the shop and the students of the school wish to express their gratitude to the Studebaker Corporation. Thank you.

Montgomery Chosen for Summer Science

Kay Montgomery has been chosen to attend the Summer Science Training Programs for High-Ability Secondary School Students in 1964. The program will last eight weeks beginning on June 15th and ending August 7th at Purdue University. Supporting the program is the National Science Foundation.

The purpose of the course is to give high school students with scientific interests a better understanding of scientific manner and methods. The program is intended to encourage students to develop their talents. No official credit is given for the course.

Instructional activities include lectures, seminars, discussion and reading in the areas of animal science, paint science, microbiology, biochemistry, human nutrition, veterinary science, soil science, entomology, and genetics. Each student is assigned to a Purdue research scientist. Approximately four hours a day are devoted to laboratory or field research. Each student will prepare a report on his project and submit it at the end of the program.

Modern classrooms, research laboratories, green houses, controlled environmental chambers and research equipment are among the modern facilities that will be at the students' disposal. Students will live and eat in Purdue's modern residence halls. Free time is allowed each day for recreation, which may include gymnastics, swimming, and various other games.

There is no charge for room and board for the program. These expenses are paid by the National Science Foundation. Applications are invited from science-oriented students in the upper 10% of their class, who are juniors this year. Selection is based on information presented by both the student and the school on the regular application forms. Miss Montgomery was notified of her acceptance on April 15, 1964. Clay High School is very proud to have a representative in this program, and wishes Kay the best of luck in all her undertakings.

TRACK SEASON COMES TO END

Maroons Outscored By Colonial Runners

Mishawaka may have beaten us by 21 points, but we literally gave them a run for their money, or at least the victory.

In the hurdle events, Mishawaka's Le Mon hit the tape just a foot or so ahead of our own Mike Elmore in the 120-yard higher. (Time: 15:4).

While in B-team competition, Jeff Tusing won the same event by an easy 6 or 7 yards. Time: 18:7).

In the mile run, Doug Skinner posted a winning time of 4:45.5 with Al Davis coming for a third, just a few seconds behind.

In the 440, it looked as if Don Stroud were going to be beaten going into the far corner, but he kicked it down the last 100 yards or so and won by several yards. A good time also, 55 seconds flat.

Mike Rozow took a second in the hundred, just a step or so behind Mishawaka's Watson, chugging all the way.

Frank Heim took the honors in the shot put categorie by throwing that hunk of brass 46-feet 2 1/4 inches.

Eight-eighty-wise Dave Smith came from behind to win (2:07.9).

Mike Elmore leaped 18-feet 8 inches to win the broad jumping event.

In a seemingly unending contest, Mishawaka's Watson finally won out of Joe Kodba (2nd) and Don Stroud.

The final score: 66-43.

Track Record At 0-9

As this comes to press, the track team presents their record, not yet complete, and not too sparkling, something like zero wins, nine losses. However, this year's team does have a few members who are certainly outstanding. Guys like Mike Elmore, Mike Rozow, Frank Heim, Dave Smith, Steve Montgomery, Doug Skinner, Don Stroud, and Dave Lynch. Because nearly all of these guys are seniors and starting members of the team, it looks as if Coach Cote may be in a bad way next spring.

Those who earned firsts in competition were Mike Rozow, 5; Don Stroud, 5; Doug Skinner, 5; Mike Elmore, 5; Frank Heim, 3; Al Davis, Steve Montgomery, 1; Dave Smith, 2; Cloyd Nichols, 3; Larry Sanders, 2.

Second places — Larry Sanders, 1; Rozow, 5; Heim, 3; Elmore, 4; Skinner, 1; Carter, 1; Kodba, 1; Stroud, 3.

Thirds — Lynch, 1; Beisel, 3; Elmore, 1; Sanders, 1; Rozow, 1; Nichols, Skinner, Smith, Hartzell, Dorn, Stroud, Davis, 1.

New Season's Track Queen Reigns

NANCY OLSON

Nancy Olson was recently chosen as the Track Queen of Clay High School. She was informed of her position on April 24, after the track team had taken a vote. On May 4, at the County Track Meet, Nancy distributed ribbons to the winners.

Nancy had this comment to make about her reign: "I enjoy being track queen very much. I would like to thank everyone who made the honor possible. As for the track team, I think that they tried their very best. Next year will be another year, a year that they can try their hardest again. The team has really shown great effort even against odds."

Nancy's activities include cheer-block and Spanish Club. She enjoys listening to the Beatles and Peter, Paul and Mary. Her favorite foods are pizza and hamburger.

CLAY SMASHES PENN, 21-7

The Clay Colonials baseball team really walloped the Penn Kingsmen, 21-7 at Penn's own diamond.

Clay scored in every inning but the second. Tom Hess homered for the Colonials and Jon Arnold and Bob Leiter picked up three hits each.

Rog Benko got credit for the victory.

Baseball Season Ends

As the baseball season nears an end, Coach James Reinbold has reached quite a conclusion about this year's team. "We can't make a mistake without the other team capitalizing on it, and eventually scoring on it." Coach Reinbold started the season with only four lettermen. Even so, the team looked very good defeating Adams.

"Inexperience seems to be a factor in our losses, although some veterans are not performing up to par. The season's schedule is pretty rough, I guess. Maybe we're expecting too much."

The Colonials started the season with an inspiring defeat of Adams. Then they lost to Michigan City, 4-3; lost to Washington, 9-6; beat Penn, 21-7; lost to Benton Harbor, 3-2; beat Madison 14-1 and 2-1 in a double-header; lost to Elkhart, 3-0; beat Riley, 5-2 and then lost the second game of the double-header, 5-3; lost 4-3 to Benton Harbor; 10-2 to Niles; beat Logansport in the Logansport tourney, 3-2; lost in the second game 7-0 to Kokomo.

Some seasons, a ball team can make a few mistakes and escape. But not so this season. The guys are really trying for victory, maybe too hard. Maybe their inconsistency has got them down. Remedy? Look to the players.

Logansport Tourney

The Colonials started the tourney in an encouraging defeat of Logansport 3-2. Rog Benko went all the way, the usual 7 innings, plus 2 extras. His double drove in a tying run and Benny Crawford's single gave us the victory.

We then proceeded to get whopped 7-0, in the second game, against Kokomo. Their hurler, Bill Conaway, struck out 16, walked 3, in a no-hit contest. He had a good curve and plenty of steam.

Kokomo got 3 runs in the first, 2 in the second, before we started to play ball.
